

BUSINESS SOUTH

business@dailyecho.co.uk ■ Tel: 023 8042 4499

Business Editor
Gareth Lewis
Business Journalist of the Year

UND PORT

al rrivals: OOCL
er, 0030, 207;
30, 34/35;
k, container,
te, cargo,
rogress, roro,
ean Highway,
; Jeanie
g, tba, 101
al ailings:
s, container,
ang Majesty,
Hual Seoul,
OCL Europe,
207; Taiko,
/35; Addi L,

ncipal
rrivals:
roro, 0615,
essenger, 0630,
nce II, vehicle,
am, cargo,
Mumbai, con-
CMA CGM
2030, 206

ncipal
ailings:
ay, vehicle,
ansporter,
Autoprogess,
enturja, pas-
6; Chastine
er, 1900, 205;
vehicle, 2100,
pm, 102/3

TORROW

1m	14.53	1.2m
7m	15.14	0.7m
2m	23.41	0.9m
1m	14.58	1.1m
3m	15.21	0.9m
7m	15.48	1.7m
3m	15.36	1.5m
1m	14.44	1.1m
1m	16.48	1.1m
9m	22.53	0.7m

TORROW

9m	19.51	1.9m
5m	21.09	1.6m
1m	17.32	3.4m
2m	22.37	4.2m
3m	22.11	4.0m
5m	17.40	1.9m

Swanage and between 5 hours after before the next low

axe
home
jobs

R Barratt has t of sales

Queen Mary 2 passes the party on her way out from Southampton watched by (left to right) managing partner Nick Vaughan, Tansy Aked, musical director for the event and senior partner Richard Smith.

Order no: 7324826

Paris Smith

AROUND 600 business people turned out to witness historic Southampton Law firm Paris Smith unveil its new look.

Formerly known as Paris Smith & Randall, the 190-year-old firm was celebrating doubling in size of both its premises and number of employees during the past ten years.

The event saw West End hits from showbiz cabaret band Too Darn Hot including current stars performing in a show specially staged by musical director Tansy Aked of Pindock Productions.

The night also saw well-known lawyer Richard Smith, Paris Smith's senior partner, announce his resignation from the firm.

Managing partner, Nick Vaughan, who had dressed as Phantom of the Opera, said: "This was by way of a heartfelt 'thank you' to our very strong loyal client base and referrers, as well as being a vital opportunity to network in a more challenging economic climate."

Echo pictures by Malcolm Nethersole

Managing partner Nick Vaughan as Phantom of the Opera.

Order no: 7324873

Entertainers Jan Hartley and Aoibheann Greene.

Order no: 7324884

BUSINESS ROUNDUP

Big Appeal for Echo

DAILY Echo finished its 2008 marathon fund-raising event on Friday, raising a total of £38,400 for the charity. As well as running the marathon, Peter and former Republic of Ireland footballer and fellow marathon runner, Chris M... raise the total.

Stephane Del... world famous F... Restaurant in F... go to the home... ner of a charity... and create a m... watering five c... feast especially... them.

As well as hav... the chef in their... kitchen the win... will also get Pe... and former Rep... of Ireland footb... and fellow mar... runner, Chris M... waiters.

Peter said: "W... langes to achie... marathon and... know with the... and fantastic e... that we'll be ab... The sealed bi... night on Sunda... make your bid... pmcgahan@ww... "Stephane off... call Peter on 0... To make a do... justgiving.com/

Spaceway
for £1.5

INTERIOR spa... has completed... the contact len... Coopervision's... Development... Ford. As well a... rior of the 70s... car park, fitti... disabled facilit... ted-out the int... "Visitors nov... building, which... said Neil Good... research and... CooperVision... by Spaceway... very high stan...